PHILOSOPHY

Cole Burton focuses on delivering value-add to every project. Value add from being large enough to handle projects up to 500,000 square feet without additional subcontractor assistance. Value add from having 29 dump trucks to ensure timely deliveries. Value add from owning our own mill machines so we don't have to sub out the work and you don't have to worry about a contractor you technically didn't hire. Value add from superior communication skills as our field personnel are outfitted with tablets and technology to remain in constant communication with the home office. Value add in pricing the lowest we possible can without jeopardizing your project or your relationship with your client. Value add by using realism in job planning. Value add by employing project managers and leaders with critical and strategic decision making capabilities. Value add by developing a company culture of professionalism.
